USB Internet phone with display

CPHONELU

Easy calling through the Internet

The CPHONELU phone allows low-rate or even FREE world-wide internet telephone calls by using your computer. Just connect it to a PC or notebook and when Skype™ is already installed you can use the phone immediately. The integrated keypad and the illuminated display are simple and comfortable in use. The caller identification function allows you to see the names of Skype™ users on the display and to scroll to the person you would like to call.
